

APPENDIX I

The OROSW Vision

By the year 2018, the neighborhoods of Operation ReachOut-SouthWest will be known citywide as a desirable place to live. All houses will be occupied, the majority by homeowners. The streets will be clean, safe, attractive, drug-free, lined with trees and well kept gardens. There will be parenting, individual and family support services for those who need them. All residents will be educated. There will be recreational activities for all. There will be a variety of fulfilling business and employment opportunities for all people. All community groups, businesses, churches, institutions, government and individuals will continue to work together to maintain the quality of life in our neighborhoods.

Interviewed participants of the process:

Name, institution	Role in the process
Kevin Jordan , community organizer, the Bon Secour Health System	organizer, facilitator, coordinator, member of the steering committee
Carol Gilbert , the Neighborhood Design Center	member of the steering committee
Joyce Smith , director of the OROSW, previously Director of the Franklin Square Community Association	member of the steering committee
Zach Holl , community planner, the City of Baltimore, the Department of Planning	member of the steering committee